Please note that any information, photos, images, or other materials you disclose through such services, through social media or otherwise on our Website, becomes public information and may be available to visitors to the Website all over the world and to the general public. In addition, when you choose to make a posting on such services, certain personal information will be available for other users to view. WE ARE NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE USE OF ANY PERSONAL INFORMATION YOU VOLUNTARILY POST AND DISCLOSE.

Information We Collect Through Automatic Data Collection Technologies. As you navigate through and interact with our Website, we may use automatic data collection technologies to collect certain information about your equipment, browsing actions, and patterns, including: details of your visits to our Website, traffic data, location data, logs, and other communication data, and the resources that you access and use on the Website; and information about your computer and internet connection, including your IP address, operating system, and browser type.

We also may use these technologies to collect information about your online activities over time (behavioral tracking); however, we do not track your activities across third-party websites, other than third-party websites related to products or services which are provided through our Website or the websites of our affiliates. As we do not track activity across third-party websites (except if branded as, or part of providing products or services through, our Website), “do not track” settings are generally not applicable; we do track actions on our Website.

The information we collect automatically is statistical data and may include personal information. In addition, we may maintain statistical data, or associate such data, with personal information we collect in other ways or receive from third parties. It helps us to improve our Website and to deliver a better and more personalized service, including by enabling us to:

- estimate our audience size and usage patterns;
- store information about your preferences, allowing us to customize our Website according to your individual needs;

- speed up your searches; and/or
- recognize you when you return to our Website.

The technologies we use for this automatic data collection may include:

Browser Cookies. As with many websites, our Website uses a technology called “cookies.” A cookie is a collection of information that gets stored on the hard drive of your computer when browsing the Internet. These small bits of code automatically identify your browser to the Website whenever your computer is used to visit the Website. Cookies also let us know how many people visit the Website and where visitors go on the Website, as well as non-personally identifiable information, like how many times or how long a user has been on certain pages. For registered users, cookies can make using a Website easier for you by saving information such as your passwords or preferences. By tracking how and when you use the Website, cookies help us determine which areas are popular and which are not. Improvements and updates to our Website may be based on data obtained from cookies. Accepting cookies allows you, among other things, to personalize your experience on the Website. Cookies may also allow the Website to present to you advertising which may be of interest to you. If you do not want information collected through the use of cookies, your browser should contain an option that allows you to disable or delete cookie data at any time. Note that even if you disable or delete cookies related to our Website, we may still be able to recognize users by cross-referencing other data we collected. Some areas of our Website, however, may not provide you with a personalized experience if you have disabled the use of cookies.

Flash Cookies/Local Shared Objects (LSOs). We may use local shared objects, also known as Flash cookies, to store your preferences such as volume control or display content based upon what you view on our site to personalize your visit. Third parties, with whom we may partner to provide certain features on our site or to display advertising based upon your web browsing activity, use Flash cookies to collect and store information. Flash cookies are different from browser cookies because of the amount and type of data stored and of how the data is stored. Cookie management tools provided by your browser will not remove Flash cookies. To learn more about and how to manage settings for Flash cookies, you can visit adobe.com. Disabling cookies may affect features or functionality of the Website.

Web Beacons and Other Tracking Technology. Our Website may use a variety of technical methods for tracking purposes, including Web Beacons. Web Beacons are small pieces of data that are embedded in images on the pages of Websites. We also may use these technical methods to analyze the traffic patterns on our Website, such as the frequency with which users visit various parts of the Website. These technical methods may involve the transmission of information either directly to us or to another party authorized by us to collect information on our behalf. We also may use these technical methods in HTML emails that we send to determine whether the recipients have opened those emails and/or clicked on links in those emails. The information from use of these technical methods may be collected in a form that is personally identifiable.

Some web browsers (including Safari, Internet Explorer, Firefox and Chrome) incorporate a “do not track” (“DNT”) or similar feature that signals to digital services that a visitor does not want to have online activity tracked. If a digital service that responds to a particular DNT signal receives the DNT signal, the browser can block that digital service from collecting certain personal information about the browser’s user. Not all browsers offer a DNT option, and DNT signals are not yet uniform. For this reason, we and many other digital service operators may not respond to DNT signals. For more information about DNT signals, visit <http://allaboutdnt.com>.

IP Addresses and Click-Stream Data. We may collect IP addresses and/or click-stream data. An IP address is a number associated with the service through which you access the Internet, like your ISP (Internet service provider), your company, or your employer. Standing alone, your IP address is not generally personally identifiable. At times, we also use IP addresses for purposes of system administration and to report aggregate information to our affiliates or partners, for example regarding the frequency with which guests visit various parts of our Website. We may combine this information with personally identifiable information we obtain from you directly on our Website, or from third parties.

Click-stream data is information collected by our computers when you request pages from a Website. Click-stream data may include such information as the page served, the time, the source of the request, the type of browser making the request, the preceding page view and other such non-personal information. When analyzed, this data helps us analyze how visitors arrive at the Website, what type of content is most popular, and what type of visitors in the aggregate are interested in particular kinds of content and advertising.

Third-Party Websites; Use of Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies

Our Website may contain links to third-party websites. These linked websites are not under our control, and we are not responsible for the privacy practices or the contents of any such linked website or any link contained in any linked website. We provide such links only as a convenience, and the inclusion of a link on the website does not imply endorsement of the linked website by Tarter. If you provide any personal information through any such third-party website, your transaction will occur on the third-party's website (not our Website) and the personal information you provide will be collected by and controlled by the privacy policy of that third party. We recommend that you familiarize yourself with the privacy policies and practices of any third parties.

Some content or applications, including advertisements, on the Website are served by third-parties, including advertisers, ad networks and servers, content providers, and application providers. These third parties may use cookies, alone or in conjunction with web beacons or other tracking technologies, to collect information about you when you use our Website. The information they collect may be associated with your personal information or they may collect information, including personal information, about your online activities over time and across different websites and other online services. They may use this information to provide you with interest-based (behavioral) advertising or other targeted content.

We do not control these third parties' tracking technologies or how they may be used. If you have any questions about an advertisement or other targeted content, you should contact the responsible provider directly.

If you do not want us to use your information in this way, you can opt out of receiving this information by notifying us at webcontact@tarterusa.com.

We may also use or disclose information to resolve disputes, investigate problems, or enforce our terms and conditions relating to a sale or otherwise. At times, we may review status or activity of multiple users to do so. We may disclose or access information whenever we believe in good faith that the law so requires or if we otherwise consider it necessary to do so to maintain service and improve our services. We use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, to manage our Website, and to enhance our Website based on the usage pattern we receive.

How We May Share Your Information

Our disclosure of your personal information is limited to circumstances in which we are permitted to do so under applicable law. We may disclose aggregated information about our users, and information that does not identify any individual, without restriction.

At times, as described below, your personal information may be shared with others for various purposes:

Affiliates. We may share information with our affiliates and other related parties for cross-marketing and other purposes.

Agents. We employ other businesses and individuals to perform functions on our behalf. Examples may include preparing and sending email relating to our business, providing marketing assistance, fulfilling orders, Website analysis, analyzing data, processing credit card payments, providing customer service and storing data or information on third-party servers. These businesses or individuals may have access to personally identifiable information needed to perform their functions. Their use will be subject to their privacy policies and our agreements with them.

Interest-Based Advertising and IP Targeting. We may work with data providers to serve advertising to you through display media or other methods. These providers may use personal information that we have collected or that you have provided to locate you online, such as when you visit or log into Websites or mobile applications. This information may be linked to online identifiers or IP addresses assigned to you, and to demographic or interest-based data, in order to target you with relevant advertising, including about our products. To learn more about or opt out of this and other interest-based advertising, please visit the industry opt-out pages operated by the Digital Advertising Alliance (DAA), at <http://www.aboutads.info> and by the Network Advertising Initiative (NAI) at <http://networkadvertising.org>.

The opt-outs for interest-based advertising require that strictly necessary cookies are not blocked by the settings in your web browser. We support the Self-Regulatory Principles for Online Behavioral Advertising of the Digital Advertising Alliance in the U.S., the Canadian Digital Advertising Alliance in Canada, and the European Digital Advertising Alliance in the EU. If you live in the United States, Canada or the European Union, you can visit Ad Choices (US), Your Ad Choices (Canada) or Your Online Choices (EU) to find a convenient place to opt-out of interest-based advertising with participating entities for each region. These Websites also provide detailed information about how interest-based advertising works. Opting out does not mean that you will no longer receive advertising from us, or when you use the internet. It just means that the data collected from our Website will not be used for interest-based advertising and that the advertising you see displayed on Websites will not be customized to your interests.

Aggregate Information. We may share aggregate information, such as demographics and Website usage statistics, with advertisers, sponsors, or other organizations. When this type of information is shared, the other parties do not have access to your personally identifiable information.

Third-Party Ad Serving and Audience and Traffic Measurement Services. We may use a third-party network advertiser to serve the advertisements on our Website or may use a traffic measurement service to analyze the traffic on our Website. Network advertisers are third parties that display advertisements based on your visits to this Website and other Websites you have visited. Third-party ad serving enables us to target advertisements to you for products or Websites in which you might have an interest. Audience and traffic measurement services allow us to collect anonymous traffic and behavior information from the Website by monitoring anonymous visitor activity. Such advertisers, sponsors and/or traffic measurement services may themselves set and access their cookies on your computer if you choose to have your cookies enabled in your browser. Cookies allow third-party advertisers to show you advertisements or content. Note that any images (or any other parts of a web page) served by third parties in association with third-party cookies may serve as Web Beacons, which enable third parties to carry out the previously described activities. Other companies' uses of their cookies are subject to their own privacy policies, not this one.

Business Transfers. In the event that some or all of our assets or business are sold or transferred to another party, or another transaction occurs in which your personally identifiable information is one of the assets sold or transferred, all personally identifiable information that has been collected and saved, to the extent allowed to be transferred by law, may be one of the assets we transfer. There will be a notice provided on our Website or otherwise if such a transfer occurs. Your personally identifiable information may also be reviewed in connection with negotiations for a possible merger or consolidation or sale or transfer of assets by us.
